About me

Spare time

- Climbing

Climbing is my way to engage my body and workout, the same time that I work towards getting in a better shape, then I am working on my Strategy, problem solving, and endurance, Climbing has a big part of solve to puzzle before going up onto the wall.

- Computer Geek

Besides lifting weights, I am also quite a Computer Geek, I started at a young age dismantle computers and build them again, to get an understanding how the computer works. I like to research the newest CPUs and GPUs and figure out what will be the best and smartest upgrade for a computer, to enhance my own computer experience.
